AMG Medical Inc. Selects Saddle Creek for Multichannel Fulfillment

Bio-Medicine.Org

LAKELAND, Fla., Aug. 7, 2012 /PRNewswire/ -- Saddle Creek Logistics Services has been selected to manage multichannel fulfillment services for AMG Medical Inc., a Canadian-based manufacturer and distributor of home healthcare and professional medical products.

Saddle Creek will provide pick-pack-and-ship fulfillment services as well as warehousing, small parcel transportation management, and value-added services such as returns processing, kitting and light assembly. The 3PL will handle approximately 400 SKUs from its facility in Atlanta which offers ample space to house AMG Medical's bulkier products such as walkers and wheelchairs.

"One of our key decision criteria for choosing Saddle Creek is their ability to handle complex order fulfillment across all sales channels – from traditional retail fulfillment to customer drop shipping to e-commerce fulfillment, a key growth area for us," said Jonathan Danker, vice president of operations at AMG Medical. "Saddle Creek has the established systems and processes to deliver the efficient and quality order fulfillment our customers demand."

"With our breadth of logistics services and network of facilities across the country, we're prepared to support AMG Medical's full range of fulfillment needs and accommodate anticipated growth," said Perry Belcastro, vice president, fulfillment services at Saddle Creek. "We look forward to delivering a quality fulfillment solution backed by personal attention and service excellence."
