About Us:

For the past 15 years, All-Star has been providing OEMs with products that meet today's requirements and specifications.

Today, All-Star blowers, vacuum pumps and compressors are found in environmental applications that help to monitor the air we breathe, clean waste water, remove toxic gas from landfills to toxic radon found in homes and buildings; in municipal and industrial applications from robotic pick-n-place to cleaning printed circuit boards; in the food industry that conveys and blend ingredients, providing air for ovens for baking, to pick-n-place finished products in shipping cartons, to cleaning and drying fresh fruit before delivery to local markets; in the medical industry from dental suction pumps to hospital and health care needs.
