

Emerges From Chapter 11 With Strong New Capital Structure; Announces New Board of Directors

The Associated Press

TLC Vision (USA) Corporation (the "Company"), North America's premier eye care services company, announced today that it has officially emerged from Chapter 11 as a newly reorganized, private company. The Company's Plan of Reorganization (the "Plan"), which was confirmed by the U.S. Bankruptcy Court on May 6, 2010 and subsequently recognized by a Canadian court order, has become effective. All outstanding closing conditions have been satisfied or waived.

In accordance with the Plan, affiliates of Charlesbank Capital Partners, LLC and H.I.G. Capital, LLC have acquired substantially all the assets of TLC Vision Corporation, including 100% of the equity of the Company and TLC Vision Corporation's six refractive centers in Canada. It is expected that any remaining assets of TLC Vision Corporation will be liquidated in a Canadian proceeding and that net proceeds of such liquidation, if any, will be distributed to TLC Vision Corporation's creditors in accordance with the Plan.

James B. Tiffany, President and Chief Executive Officer of TLC Vision stated, "This is an exciting day for TLC Vision. We have successfully completed our financial restructuring in just five months and we exit Chapter 11 with a healthier balance sheet and an improved cost structure. We look forward to teaming with our new partners, Charlesbank and H.I.G. We are now better positioned both competitively and financially to take advantage of opportunities within our markets and achieve our true growth potential."

Continued Tiffany, "I want to thank our employees, who worked tirelessly during the reorganization process to ensure our success, our surgeons and our network of over 5,000 optometrists, who continue to support TLC. Lastly, I offer a special thanks to our outgoing directors and advisors for their valuable guidance and encouragement throughout the process."

In connection with TLC Vision's completion of its financial restructuring, the Company announced a new Board of Directors whose members are:

"We welcome our new Board of Directors and look forward to benefitting from their guidance and experience as we set a course toward future growth," said Tiffany.

The existing directors of TLC Vision Corporation have resigned as directors in accordance with terms of the Plan.
