

InVivo repays MLSC loan

Mass High Tech: The Journal of New England Technology

InVivo Therapeutics Corp., which brought in a \$10.5 million investment [1] as part of a reverse merger on Wednesday, has repaid a $567,930 loan from the Massachusetts Life Sciences Center, according to life sciences center president and CEO Susan Windham-Bannister.

InVivo, which is developing a treatment for spinal cord injuries, had received the loan from the life sciences center's Accelerator Program in May 2009.
