As a second US location to its headquarters in San Francisco, CA, ClinStar's new office is located at 1000 Park Forty Plaza, Durham, NC. In addition to offering adequate space to centralize ClinStar's regional workforce, the new facility was chosen in large part because of its flexibility to accommodate the company's future growth.

According to President and CEO David Passov, "This is the realization of a major long-term business goal for ClinStar. Our new office further solidifies our commitment to offer our clients the local expertise and knowledge they need to successfully conduct clinical trials in Russia and Eastern Europe while ensuring our business operates in accordance with the proven business and management principles practiced in the West."

"We are thrilled with the opening of our new office," says Erin King, Executive Director Business Development and Marketing. This move is just one of several important initiatives positioning ClinStar as the leading provider of clinical research services in Russia, Ukraine and parts of Eastern Europe. Our new facility affords not only centralized office space for our employees, but also upscale conference space for hosting meetings with our customers."
