RIDGEFIELD, Conn.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Sep 24, 2012--Desert Health Imaging Technologies (DHIT), Phoenix, has been named distributor in the southwest region for CoActiv Medical's full line of PACS, RIS and cloud-based medical imaging archiving solutions. Desert Health will also market the CoActiv product line nationally through its extensive e-commerce websites as well as take advantage of sales opportunities through its NHD (National Healthcare Distributors) affiliation.

"DHIT was looking for an established PACS provider with a broad-based product portfolio and outstanding customer acceptance," according to Tim Scherkenback, owner of Desert Health. "CoActiv's outstanding KLAS ratings certainly gained our attention and motivated us to pursue further dialogue with the CoActiv team. The company was a standout on KLAS customer satisfaction ratings across the board and was the only vendor reviewed that delivered on 100 percent of its promises to customers. Desert Health shares that same commitment to customer service. CoActiv is a company whose vision is clearly aligned with ours." A leading regional provider of medical imaging equipment, service and supplies, DHIT was founded in 1978. It carries a full range of PACS and CR/DR solutions from the industry's leading manufacturers and takes pride in its highly trained sales and service departments.

"We are pleased to welcome Desert Health to CoActiv's growing list of distributors, which have tripled during the past year and now span the country," says Frank Baker, Vice President of Sales for CoActiv. "We look forward to a long and successful relationship with the company and are particularly anticipating excellent results from Desert Health's strong e-commerce efforts." According to Scherkenback, "CoActiv delivers a premiere PACS product, robust enough to support the imaging needs of the large hospital and imaging center segment of our customer base. CoActiv has shown flexibility in understanding DHIT's blend of personal sales with heavy emphasis on multiple internet portals and the ubiquity of the Internet as an emerging one-on-one sales tool. We believe it will be an excellent fit for our firm."
