

FDA warns Zimmer on hip implant manufacturing

Mass Device

Orthopedic medical device maker Zimmer received an FDA warning for hip implants at a Puerto Rico manufacturing facility.

Orthopedic titan Zimmer Holdings [1] (NYSE:ZMH [2]) received an FDA warning letter over manufacturing practices involving certain of its hip implants, according to regulatory filings.

The FDA dinged the device maker over "certain manufacturing and validation processes pertaining to Trilogy acetabular system products," according to the company.
