

Personal struggle inspires testing for hemophiliacs

Mass High Tech: The Journal of New England Technology

Dr. Glenn Pierce knows first-hand the struggles of patients with hemophilia. The chief medical officer of Biogen Idec Hemophilia was born with hemophilia, a rare genetic disorder in which the blood doesn't clot normally, and now through their respective organizations, he and a coalition of others will offer free genetic testing or genotyping to people with hemophilia and their families.
