The Associated Press

DUBLIN--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Dec 21, 2012--Research and Markets (http://www.researchandmarkets.com/research/lm2gkg/medical\_devices) has announced the addition of the "Medical Devices Outsourcing Market - Global Industry Size, Market Share, Trends, Analysis, And Forecast, 2012 - 2018" report to their offering.

Medical devices outsourcing is the process of contracting with a third party for performing business functions like product design, manufacturing, prototyping, and supply chain management. These functions were initially carried out internally by medical companies. By offering third party manufacturers to perform these processes, medical device manufacturers can focus on their core competencies like clinical and technical innovations.

The medical devices outsourcing market is experiencing tremendous growth as many manufacturers are opting to outsource their device manufacturing process. The demand for medical devices outsourcing is increasing as many new entrants are occupying the market and the supporting medical devices companies may not have sufficient staff or technology to develop competitive products.
