

www.bbruanoem-industrial.com

The new B. Braun OEM/Industrial web site, www.bbruanoem-industrial.com, provides detailed information about the division, its worldwide capabilities, and its wide range of products and individual components.

Visitors to the site can search an on-line catalog containing more than 2,000 different products including medical devices, safety products, components, solutions, kits/trays/sets, and custom designs. For a handy and powerful desktop reference, they can request a copy of the award-winning Starting Lines® CD-ROM catalog and medical device design tool.

The capabilities section complements the product section by covering the division's design, manufacturing, packaging, sterilization, and quality assurance programs. Company news and a schedule of upcoming events are also listed.

In addition, the B. Braun OEM/Industrial "Product Lines" newsletter, which contains information on the division's products and services, is available for download. For more information, contact B. Braun OEM/Industrial toll free at 866-8-BBRAUN or visit www.bbruanoem-industrial.com.
