

Workstations

With Arlink's "Quick Pick" ordering system, specifiers can order an entire workstation or racking system, which include the most popular accessories, by selecting one part number. This system can include the worksurface, a footrest, lighting, power beams, shelves, and a wide range of other accessories depending on the particular application. There are over 300 "Quick Pick" selections, available in all Arlink model sizes and 3 column heights and with both standard and ESD worksurfaces in two depths.
