

Cap Closing Machine

Designed for performance and low maintenance, the cap closing machine offers ease in product changeover to accommodate different sizes and styles. Standard features include automatic feeding, closed lid inspection, and an integrated reject station. The closing machine can be designed into a complete lid closure handling system where the closures are delivered directly from the injection molding machine to the cap closing machine. After being closed, the caps can be transferred downstream to additional operations.

Source URL (retrieved on 01/25/2015 - 10:46am):

http://www.mdtmag.com/product-releases/2004/08/cap-closing-machine?qt-video_of_the_day=0