

Air Filters Website

Readers can go to Universal Air Filter's website for information on medical equipment air filters. Sections titled "How to Specify an Air Filter" and "Prototype Request" show how to spec air filter prototypes within five working days. The site also includes a listing of medical air filters with easy-to-reference information about thermal management, filtration performance, frame profiles, EMI shielding, accessories, and standards and classifications. Information: www.uafmedical.com.
