

Contract Manufacturer of Single-Use Medical Devices

NDH Medical Inc. is a contract manufacturer of single use medical devices. Specializing in custom extrusion, including PVC alternatives, NDH provides single and multi-lumen tubing, co-extrusions, tapered (bump) tubing, braid reinforced tubing, and paratubing, available in a wide range of medical grade thermoplastics. Wire and coil coating (continuous and discrete lengths), injection molding, insert molding, tip forming, hole punching, printing, and packaging services are also available, as is turnkey manufacturing and inventory management. In-house tooling design and fabrication is available to reduce project lead times. Volumes from research and development runs to large scale ongoing production runs can be easily accommodated.

Source URL (retrieved on 01/27/2015 - 10:17am):

http://www.mdtmag.com/product-releases/2010/10/contract-manufacturer-single-use-medical-devices?qt-most_popular=0